Table of Contents

1 Mass Communication and Media Literacy in Shaping Culture 1

1.1 Introduction 1
1.2 Mass Communication and Cultural Transformation 2
1.3 Relationship between Mass Communication and culture 4
1.3.1 Effects of Culture 7
1.3.2 Mass Media in narrating the cultural discourse 9
1.4 Impact of technology and money on mass media 10
1.5 Cultural Forum 12
1.5.1 The Gutenberg Revolution 12
1.5.2 The Industrial Revolution 13
1.6 Media Literacy 13

1.6.1 Fundamental Elements 14
1.6.2 Skills 16
1.7 References 19

2 Modification and Transmutation of Mass Communication 20

2.1 Introduction 20
2.2 Advantages faced by the Media Industry 22
2.3 Alteration in the media industry 24
2.3.1 Congestion of Conglomeration and Ownership 24
2.3.2 Globalisation 27
2.3.3 Fragmentation of the audience 29
2.3.4 Commercialism in the media industry 31
2.3.5 Corrosion of Dissimilarities among Media: Convergence 34
2.4 References 36

3 Books as a Mass Media Tool 37

3.1 Introduction 37
3.2 History of books 38
3.2.1 The commencement of Printed Books 39
3.2.2 The Gutenberg Press 40
3.2.3 The Evolution of the Physical Structure of Books: Paperbacks and eBooks 41
3.2.4 Digital books: The arrival of eBook 42
3.2.5 History of eBooks 42
3.3 Arrival of Books on Colonial North America 43
3.4 Books and their Cultural Value 44
3.5 Censorship of Books 45
3.5.1 The History of Banned Books 46
3.6 Aliteracy 47
3.7 Classification of books 49
3.7.1 Genres of Fiction Books: 50
3.7.2 Genre of Non-Fiction Books 51
3.8 Convergence in Book Publishing Trends 52
3.8.1 What is Convergence? 52
3.8.2 Impact of Digital Media on Book Publishing 52
3.9 Conglomeration in Book Publishing Trend 53

3.10 Smart phones, Tablets and e-Readers 54
3.11 Small Presses development 55
3.12 Reformation of Book Retailing 56
3.13 References: 57

4 Growth and Development of Newspapers 58

4.1 Introduction 58
4.2 History of Newspapers 59
4.2.1 Colonial Newspapers 60
4.2.2 Newspapers Following the Independence 62
4.3 The Emergence of Modern Newspapers 63
4.3.1 The People's Medium 64
4.3.2 The First Wire Services 65
4.3.3 Yellow Journalism 66
4.4 Newspapers Audiences 67
4.5 Structure of the Newspaper Industry 68
4.5.1 Types of Newspapers 68
4.6 Newspaper as a fuelling factor of Advertisement 72
4.7 The Feature and News Services 73
4.8 Convergence in Publishing Newspapers Trends 74
4.8.1 Competition Loss 74
4.8.2 Conglomeration 75
4.8.3 Alteration brought with the Internet 75
4.8.4 Advanced Technologies in Shaping the Industry 76
4.8.5 Changes in the Readership of Newspapers 77
4.9 References 77

5 Magazines 78

5.1 Introduction 78
5.2 History of Magazines 79
5.2.1 The Era of Mass Circulation 80
5.2.2 The Period of Specialisation 82
5.3 Audiences of Magazines 84
5.4 Structure and Scope of the Magazine Industry 85
5.4.1 Types of Consumer Magazines 85
5.5 Magazine and Advertising 86
5.5.1 Circulation Types 89
5.5.2 Measurement of Circulation 90

5.6 Convergence in the Magazine Industry Trends 91
5.6.1 Online Magazines 91
5.6.2 E – Readers and custom magazines 92
5.6.3 Competing with Cable Television 95
5.7 Effects of advertisement on magazines 96
5.8 References 97

6 Film 98
6.1 Introduction 98
6.2 History of Films 99
6.2.1 Rise of the Film Industry 99
6.3 The Micheaux and Lincoln Film Companies and the Big Studios 100
6.4 Hollywood witnessing changes 103
6.5 Audiences of Movies 107
6.6 Three Component Systems 110
6.7 Conglomeration in the Film industry 112
6.8 Convergence transforms Movie Business 114
6.9 Film Distribution 116
6.10 Advanced technologies and film industry 117
6.11 Film Narration: Modernization of film narration 118
6.11.1 The role of narrative in the context of digital cinema 119
6.12 References: 119

7 Popular Music, Recording and Radio 120
7.1 Introduction 120
7.2 History of radio 121
7.3 Commencement of Sound Recording 123
7.3.1 The Advent of Broadcasting 124
7.3.2 The Initiation of Regulation 126
7.3.3 Advertising 128
7.3.4 The Golden Era 129
7.4 The Audience of the Radio 130
7.5 Nature and Scope of the Radio Industry 131
7.5.1 Non - commercial Radio, AM and FM 131
7.5.2 Local Radio 132
7.5.3 Fragmented Radio 133

7.5.4 Specialised Radio 133
7.5.5 Personal Radio 134
7.5.6 Mobile Radio 134
7.6 Radio as a means of commercial development 135
7.6.1 The flow of Advertisement through Radio 135
7.6.2 Ownership and Deregulation 136
7.7 Nature and Scope of the Recording Industry 137
7.7.1 The Main Recording Companies 137
7.8 Convergence in Sound Recording and Radio Industry Trends 140
7.8.1 The Influence of the Television 140
7.8.2 Cable and Satellite 141
7.9 References 142

8 Mobile Video, Cable and Television 143

8.1 Introduction 143
8.2 History of Television 144
8.2.1 The Advent of the Cable 147
8.3 8.3 The Audiences of Television 148
8.4 Nature and Scope of Television Industry 151
8.4.1 The Program Content 152
8.4.2 How a Programme is aired? 152
8.5 The Satellite and the Cable Television 156
8.5.1 Programming and Television Network 156
8.6 Convergence in Cable and Television Trends 159
8.6.1 Video - Cassette Recorders 159
8.6.2 Digital Video Disc 160
8.6.3 Digital Video Recorder 160
8.7 References 161

9 An overview of Video Games 162

9.1 Introduction 162
9.2 The Emergence of Modern Video Games 164
9.3 A rapid growth of video games 166
9.4 The Players of the Games 168
9.4.1 Defining Video Games 168
9.4.2 Who are the Players? 169
9.5 Nature and the Scope of the Video - Game Industry 170

9.6 Convergence in the Video - Game Industry Trends 174
9.6.1 Advanced technologies and Video Games 176
9.6.2 Commercialism in the Video Games industry 178
9.7 References 178

10 An Introduction to the World of Internet 179

10.1 Introduction 179
10.2 The Advent of the Computer 181
10.2.1 Use of Internet in the Military field 182
10.3 Emergence of Personal Computer 184
10.4 The Internet of the Modern World 185
10.4.1 An overview of the World Wide Web 187
10.5 Advanced Technologies in the Field of Internet 189
10.6 Who are the users? 191
10.7 An Alternative to the Electronic Media 193
10.7.1 The Double Edge of Technology 194
10.7.2 The Renaissance of McLuhan 194
10.8 Restructuring life in the Virtual World 196
10.8.1 The Freedom of Expression in the era of Internet 196
10.8.2 Enforcement of Freedom - of - the - press 197
10.9 References 200

11 Public Relations in the Modern World 201

11.1 Introduction: Defining Public Relations 201
11.2 History of Public Relations 204
11.2.1 Early Public Relations 204
11.2.2 Development of Propaganda in the Public Stage 206
11.2.3 The Bygone Two - Way Communication 208
11.2.4 The Modern Two-Way Communication 210
11.2.5 Forming the Feature of Public Relations 211
11.3 Audiences of Public Relations 212
11.4 Formation and Scope of the Public Relations Industry 213
11.4.1 The Areas of Application 215
11.4.2 Management Function of Public Relations 218
11.4.3 Organisation for the Operation of Public Relations 219

11.5 Convergence in Public Relations Trends 220
11.5.1 Specialisation, Concentration and Globalisation 220
11.5.2 Convergence 221
11.5.3 Advanced Technologies in Public Relations 223
11.5.4 rust in Public Relations 224
11.6 References 224

12 Advertising and Mass Communication 225

12.1 Introduction: Advertising - A Short History 225
12.2 Advertising in the Earlier Days 227
12.2.1 Civil War and Industrialisation 228
12.2.2 Advertising in Magazines 229
12.2.3 Professionalism and the Advertising Agency 229
12.2.4 Radio and Advertising 230
12.2.5 World War 2 231
12.2.6 Advertising in the field of Television 232
12.3 Audiences of Advertising 233
12.3.1 Defences and Criticism of Advertising 234
12.3.2 Specific Complaints 235
12.4 Nature and Scope of the Advertising Industry 239
12.4.1 The Advertising Agency 240
12.4.2 Types of Advertising 241
12.4.3 The Regulation of Advertising 242
12.4.4 Measuring the Effectiveness of Advertising 244
12.5 Convergence and Trends in Advertising 245
12.5.1 Converging and New Technologies 246
12.5.2 Social Networking Sites, Tablets and Smart - phones 247
12.5.3 Heightened Audience Segmentation 251
12.5.4 Psychographics 251
12.5.5 Globalisation 252
12.6 References 253

13 Mass Communication and its Impact 254

13.1 Introduction: The Effects Debate 254
13.1.1 Macro vs. Micro 257
13.1.2 Critical vs. Administrative Research 258

13.1.3 Ritual vs. Transmissional Outlook 258
13.2 The Theory Mass Communication 259
13.3 Mass Communication Theory: A Short History 260
13.3.1 The Period of Mass Society 261
13.3.2 Rise of the Limited Effects Outlook 263
13.3.3 Classical Theory 272
13.4 References 273

14 Media Ethics its Regulation and Freedom 274

14.1 Introduction 274
14.1.1 Initial Sentiment for Free Press 275
14.1.2 Purifying and Outlining the Initial Amendment 275
14.1.3 Additional Problems of Responsibility and Freedom 284
14.2 Theory of Social Responsibility 291
14.3 Media Industry and its Ethics 293
14.3.1 Introduction of Ethics 293
14.3.2 The Three stages of Ethics 294
14.3.3 Balance of Contradictory Interests 294
14.4 References 295

Index 296